DECISION

CARANDANG, J.:

This is a Petition for Review on *Certiorari*¹ under Rule 45 of the Rules of Court assailing the Decision² dated June 23, 2015 and the Resolution³ dated January 20, 2016 of the Court of Appeals (CA) in CA-G.R. CV No. 101902. The Decision and the Resolution denied petitioner's appeal and affirmed the Decision⁴ dated May 6, 2013 of the Regional Trial Court (RTC) of Manila, Branch 11 ordering petitioner Vicente T. Guerrero (Guerrero) and his co-defendant, Rogelio Cordero (Cordero), to pay respondent Phil. Phoenix Surety & Insurance, Inc. (Phoenix) ₱425,100.00 representing the losses incurred by Phoenix, the amount of ₱9,180.00 as reimbursement for the participation fee paid by a certain Atty. Joseph Agustin Gaticales (Gaticales), attorney's fees, and cost of suit.

Facts of the Case

On December 31, 2008 at 6:30 p.m., an Isuzu Sportivo vehicle (Isuzu) owned by Gaticales figured in a vehicular accident along the National Highway, Barangay Gines, Zarraga, Iloilo, with Guerrero's Chevrolet pick-up truck (Chevrolet). At the time, the Chevrolet was driven by Cordero.⁵ The left front bumper, headlight, signal light, front fender, front door, rear door, rear fender, rear tire, rear bumper, and other parts of the Isuzu were damaged by the incident. When the incident was reported to the nearest police station, i.e., Zarraga Municipal Police Station, a certain PO2 Jose Diestro (PO2 Diestro) was sent to the place of the accident to investigate and make a police report on his findings. It was found that Guerrero's Chevrolet overlapped the center line of the highway, encroaching the lane occupied by the Isuzu (which was moving in the opposite direction) and resulting in a head-on collision between the two vehicles. It was also noted that Cordero fled after the incident. The incident was recorded in the police blotter under entry no. 1327 dated December 31, 2008 and entered at 7:30 p.m.⁶

Gaticales then filed an own damage claim with Phoenix – a corporation engaged in non-life insurance where Gaticales had the Isuzu insured – for the amount of ₱810,000.00 and declared his Isuzu as a constructive total loss. After Phoenix paid the amount of ₱810,000.00 to Gaticales, Gaticales executed a Release of Claim in favor of Phoenix subrogating the latter to all his rights to recover on all claims as a consequence of the accident.⁷ Since Phoenix sold the Isuzu in a public auction for ₱399,050.00, it filed a Complaint⁸ for damages against Guerrero and Cordero for the following amounts: (1) the balance of ₱425,100.00 (equivalent to the ₱810,000.00 Phoenix paid Cordero and ₱14,150.00 it paid its handling insurance adjuster less ₱399,050.00 the Isuzu was sold for in the public auction); (2) ₱9,180.00 paid by Gaticales as his participation fee; (3) ₱42,500.00 attorney's fees plus ₱2,500.00 as appearance fee for its counsel; and (4) cost of suit.⁹

In the Complaint, Phoenix averred that the accident could have been avoided if Cordero exercised due care in driving the Chevrolet and if Guerrero exercised the required diligence in supervising Cordero as Cordero's employer. Phoenix thus sought to have Guerrero solidarily liable with Cordero for the abovementioned amounts.¹⁰

To prove its claim, Phoenix attached to the Complaint the following documents: (1) Gaticales' Insurance Policy with Phoenix;¹¹ (2) the Zarraga Municipal Police Station's Certification¹² dated January 5, 2009 and issued by Police Inspector/Chief of Police Romar V. Peregil (PI Peregil); (3) two pictures of the Isuzu showing the damages sustained by it;¹³ (4) Disbursement Voucher for the amount of ₱824,150.00;¹⁴ (5) Release of

In his Answer with Compulsory Counterclaim,¹⁹ Guerrero denied any vicarious liability from the vehicular accident because he exercised due diligence in the selection and supervisions of his employees. According to him, Cordero was not authorized to operate the Chevrolet because the car was assigned to another employee. The business owned by Guerrero enforced a strict policy against the unauthorized use or possession of company property. Despite this, Cordero opted to use Guerrero's Chevrolet on December 31, 2008 because of strong rains. Cordero, coming from a marketplace near the construction site where the Chevrolet was parked, was soaking wet from riding a motorcycle. Thus, he took shelter in the said construction site and drove the Chevrolet home without Guerrero's knowledge and consent. Cordero even picked up a friend along the way. Nevertheless, Guerrero alleged that Cordero drove slowly along the national highway due to the rain while Gaticales was the one driving fast with his Isuzu's headlights at high beam. Disoriented and confused, Cordero and his companion just fled the scene. Thus, Guerrero accused Gaticales of negligently hitting the Chevrolet.²⁰

Guerrero also questioned Phoenix's prayer that Guerrero reimburse Gaticales the latter's participation fee of ₱9,180.00 because Gaticales is not a party to the suit.²¹

During trial, Phoenix presented as its lone witness its claims manager, Roberto Salaver (Salaver). Aside from identifying his judicial affidavit, Salaver also identified the police certificate, which he also referred to as the police investigation report. Guerrero, on the other hand, testified on his behalf and presented his legal staff, Salvador M. Acsay (Acsay), as his second witness. Acsay testified that (1) Guerrero's company issued a Memorandum dated December 18, 2006 allowing only authorized or registered drivers of company vehicles to operate the same and only for the company's transactions and operations; (2) Acsay made known and implemented the policy covered by the said memorandum; and (3) Cordero was suspended for violating the said policy, as evidenced by a Memorandum dated January 6, 2009.²²

Ruling of the Regional Trial Court

In a Decision²³ dated May 6, 2013, the RTC granted Phoenix's complaint and declared Guerrero and Cordero solidarily liable to Phoenix, as follows:

WHEREFORE, foregoing premises considered, judgment is hereby rendered in favor of the plaintiff and against defendants as follows:

1. Defendants are directed, jointly and severally, to pay plaintiff the amount of ₱425,100.00 representing the subrogated loss incurred by the plaintiff in settling the damages insured vehicle on a constructive total loss basis;
2. Defendants are directed jointly and severally, to pay plaintiff's assured, Atty. Joseph Agustin Gaticales, the sum of ₱9,180.00 as his reimbursement of his participation in the settlement of his own damaged claim on a constructive total loss basis;
3. Defendants are directed, jointly and severally, to pay plaintiff attorney's fees in the amount of ₱42,500.00 plus an additional amount of ₱2,500.00 per appearance every time plaintiff's counsel or his assistant appears in court to attend to the legal needs of the plaintiff; and
4. To pay the cost of the suit.

SO ORDERED.²⁴

Using the principle of res ipsa loquitur, the trial court concluded that Cordero and Guerrero were solidarily liable because the accident was due to Cordero's negligent driving of Guerrero's Chevrolet. The RTC declared that: (1) Guerrero's Chevrolet hit the front left portion of Gaticales' Isuzu because of Cordero's negligence (as shown by the police report that the Chevrolet overlapped to the center line of the highway and that Cordero immediately fled the scene after the accident); (2) the Chevrolet was under the exclusive control of Cordero; and (3) Gaticales is not guilty of contributory negligence.²⁵

In his Motion for Reconsideration,²⁶ Guerrero alleged that the RTC improperly applied the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur because none of the requisites for the doctrine's application are present. According to Guerrero: (1) it was never established that the accident does not ordinarily occur in the absence of negligence; (2) Phoenix's sole witness never testified that Guerrero's Chevrolet was under Cordero's exclusive control since the witness's knowledge is based only on the police report; and (3) it was never proven that Gaticales was not guilty of contributory negligence. Guerrero pointed out that Phoenix failed to prove an additional requirement – i.e., Gaticales had no knowledge of or means of knowing the cause of the accident because he was never presented as a witness. Furthermore, Guerrero claimed that res ipsa loquitur applies only when evidence establishing negligence is absent or not readily available and that Phoenix could have obtained readily available evidence in the form of Gaticales' testimony.²⁷

Guerrero also averred that the trial court should not have given the police certificate any probative value because it was merely copied from a police blotter, thus, falling short of the requirements set forth in Section 44 (now Section 46),²⁸ Rule 130 of the Rules of Court. In particular, Phoenix did not prove that the police report was prepared by a public officer who had sufficient knowledge of the facts, which he acquired personally or through official information.²⁹

However, the trial court denied Guerrero's motion for reconsideration in an Order³⁰ dated September 12, 2013. This prompted Guerrero to file an appeal with the CA.

Ruling of the Court of Appeals

In its Decision³¹ dated June 23, 2015, the appellate court affirmed the findings of the RTC, thus denying Guerrero's appeal.

The CA ruled that the police certificate is admissible and is an exception to the hearsay rule because it is an official record. Under Section 46 of the Rules of Court, an official record is defined as:

Section 46. Entries in official records. – Entries in official records made in the performance of his or her duty by a public officer of the Philippines, or by a person in the performance of a duty specially enjoined by law, are prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated.

Citing Malayan Insurance Co., Inc. v. Alberto,³² the appellate court found that the requisites for the admissibility of the police certificate were complied with, namely: (1) the entry was made by a public officer specially enjoined by law to do so; (2) it was made by the public officer in the performance of his duties; (3) the public officer had sufficient knowledge of the facts stated by him, which was acquired through official information based on the investigation conducted by a police investigator (i.e., PO2 Diestro). The CA thus concluded that the police certificate, as well as the pictures of the insured vehicle, established a rebuttable presumption of negligence on the part of Cordero.³³

²⁸ Now renumbered as Section 46, Rule 130 of the Rules of Court, as amended.

Section 46. Entries in official records. – Entries in official records made in the performance of his or her duty by a public officer of the Philippines, or by a person in the performance of a duty specially enjoined by law, are prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated.

Even if the police certificate and blotter were declared inadmissible, the CA maintained that Cordero and Guerrero would still be found liable under the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur. The appellate court held that the requirements for the operation of the said doctrine were met, i.e., (1) the accident is of a kind which ordinarily does not occur in the absence of someone's negligence; (2) it is caused by an instrumentality within the exclusive control of Cordero – the negligent party as pointed out by Phoenix; and (3) there is no possibility of contributory negligence on the part of Gaticales. Coupled with Cordero's act of fleeing the scene of the accident, Cordero and Guerrero (as Cordero's employer) were found liable to Phoenix and Gaticales for the amounts previously awarded by the trial court.³⁴

Petitioner's Arguments

Undeterred, Guerrero filed the instant petition for review on certiorari. Guerrero alleged that he was denied his constitutional right to meet and cross-examine PO2 Diestro, the police who investigated the accident and prepared the police report. He claimed that the police blotter is not conclusive proof of the truth of its entry since the officer who prepared it was never presented in court. Guerrero also questioned the probative value of the pictures presented by Phoenix because these do not show that they were taken at the scene of the accident and were not identified by the person who took the said pictures. Guerrero now asks this Court to determine whether the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur applies based on a picture of the damaged vehicle alone.³⁵

Respondent's Comment

In its Comment,³⁶ Phoenix sought to have the instant petition dismissed for raising a factual issue since it questions the probative value of Phoenix's testimonial and documentary evidence.³⁷ It also averred that the constitutional right of an accused to meet the witnesses face to face does not apply to a civil complaint for damages.³⁸ Lastly, Phoenix agreed with the RTC and CA when they applied the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur, citing the same reasons used by the trial and appellate courts.³⁹

Ruling of the Court

The strength of Phoenix's claim for damages mainly rests on the admissibility and probative value of the police certificate (embodying the contents of the police blotter) and the pictures of the damaged Isuzu. The lower courts both concluded that the police blotter is an exception to the hearsay rule because it is classified as an entry in official record, following Section 46, Rule 130 of the Rules of Court.⁴⁰

A police blotter entry, or a certification thereof, is admissible in evidence as an exception to the hearsay rule under Section 46, Rule 130 of the Rules of Court. In order for it to be admissible, the said evidence must be properly presented in evidence. What must have been presented in evidence was either the police blotter itself or a copy thereof certified by its legal keeper.⁴¹

Otherwise stated, the nature of the evidence as admissible – being an exception to the hearsay rule – is different from how a party should introduce the evidence to make it admissible.

The police blotter itself could have been presented to prove the existence of the blotter entry and a copy of the said entry made in order for the opposing party to determine whether the copy is a faithful representation of the entry in the police blotter. The party offering the blotter entry may opt to present secondary evidence in the form of a certified copy of the blotter entry since such is allowed under Section 8, Rule 130 of the Rules of Court. Following Section 8, Rule 130 of the Rules of Court, “[w]hen the original of the document is in the custody of a public officer or is recorded in a public office, its contents may be proved by a certified copy issued by the public officer in custody thereof.”

Here, the Certification⁴² dated January 5, 2009 issued by Zarraga Municipal Police Station's Chief of Police, PI Peregil, did not state that PI Peregil was the legal custodian of the police blotter.⁴³ Even if We were to assume that PI Peregil had legal custody of the police blotter as Zarraga Municipal Station's Chief of Police, the Certification should still be identified by PI Peregil himself or his representative to attest to the contents of the Certification, as copied from the police blotter, and the authenticity of PI Peregil's signature. Salaver is incompetent to testify on the Certification's authenticity and due execution because Salaver is not an authorized representative of PI Peregil or even a police officer assigned to the Zarraga Municipal Police Station. Phoenix's failure to properly present the Certification does not extinguish any doubts on the genuineness of the said Certification.

⁴² Rollo, pp. 53, 69.

⁴³ Id.

With its inadmissibility, the lower courts erred in assigning any probative value to the Certification. Therefore, the Certification cannot be used as basis for applying the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur.

This Court is now left to determine whether the pictures Phoenix presented during trial will suffice to prove Cordero's negligence under the principle of res ipsa loquitur.

The pictures presented by Phoenix are likewise inadmissible in evidence for Phoenix's failure to prove its due execution and authenticity. As this Court held, "photographs, when presented in evidence, must be identified by the photographer as to its production and he must testify as to the circumstances under which they were produced."⁴⁴ This requirement for admissibility was similarly stated in Section 1, Rule 11 of the Rules on Electronic Evidence when it required photographic evidence of events to be "identified, explained or authenticated by the person who made the recording or by some other person competent to testify on the accuracy thereof." While We have allowed witnesses (other than the person who took the photograph) to identify pictures presented in evidence, the said witness must be competent to identify the photograph as a faithful representation of the object portrayed.⁴⁵ A competent witness must be able to "assure the court that they know or are familiar with the scenes or objects shown in the pictures and the photographs depict them correctly."⁴⁶

Salaver is not competent to identify the pictures presented in evidence. Salaver was not at the scene of the crime. Therefore, he does not have personal knowledge of the scene or objects shown in the pictures. More importantly, the said pictures do not depict the vehicular accident – i.e., the position of the Isuzu and the Chevrolet along the National Highway at the time of the accident. The Chevrolet was not in any of the pictures presented by Phoenix. It cannot be presumed that (1) the Chevrolet was the instrumentality that caused the accident; (2) Gaticales was the only injured party; and (3) Gaticales was not guilty of any contributory negligence.

All told, Phoenix failed to discharge its burden of proving its case with preponderance of evidence.

Guerrero's prayer for ₱500,000.00 as moral damages, ₱200,000.00 as exemplary damages, and ₱150,000.00 as attorney's fees are denied for lack of any factual or legal basis. Guerrero failed to justify why he should be awarded the abovementioned monetary claims as the instant petition focused solely on the inadmissibility of the police certificate and pictures.
